

LUCIANA ZANON

Luciana Zanon is a Training, Coaching, and Counseling senior consultant. She has developed experience in different fields: Industry, Healthcare, Banking, University.

She has always worked in people development, thinking that a better person is a better professional and the other way around.

Luciana organizes learning workshops, using different teaching techniques, on topics such as interpersonal communication, empowerment, change culture, management's development, teamwork, stress factors within the organization.

She also consults during critical moments of transformation, facilitating the process of change both at the individual and at the group level.